VANDAL DAMAGES MONUMENTS ON BATTLEFIELD

Worst Vandalism in History of the Battlefield. Handsome Monuments Disfigured by Man with Heavy Hammer. No Clues are Held.

The worst outrage ever committed on the Gettysburg Battlefield was perpetrated early Tuesday evening in the vicinity of Round Top and the Valley of Death when three handsome monuments were battered and broken by a vandal who evidently used a heavy hammer for his work. The monuments defaced are those of the 5th Corps Headquarters; the 37th Massachusetts; and the 96th Pennsylvania.

The 5th Corps memorial is located on Sedgwick avenue near Rosensteel's. It stands about six feet in height and has a Maltese cross on each of the four sides. It is of granite originally sent here for the 44th New York monument on Little Round Top. The damage done to this monument consisted in the top being knocked off and the corners being broken.

The 37th Massachusetts is located nearby. It is ten feet in height and is in the form of a tree trunk on which are gun, knapsack and other accoutrements. The gun was broken off completely, spoiling the entire monument and standing as a testimony to the fiendish character of the perpetrator.

The 96th Pennsylvania is the most beautiful of the three and is located near Plum Run in the Valley of Death on the Wheat Field road. Not only is this memorial the most costly of the three attacked but the damage done here was the worst. A reeling soldier holding a gun ready for instant use is the striking characteristic of the monument. The face of the figure was completely demolished, the hand broken off, the gun demolished and the visor of the cap of the soldier knocked off. The entire upper portion of the monument, including this figure, is a solid piece of granite.

The crime was discovered early on Tuesday evening by a member of the Rosensteel family. Other residents of that vicinity were told and soon quite a number had visited the place. Theodore Robinson later called on Col. E. B. Cope at his home on Baltimore street and notified him of the find.

This morning Colonel Cope visited the scene of the depredations and brought to the office of the National Park Commission pieces of the monuments which were found lying about, mute evidences of the damage committed. A thorough and complete investigation will be made and, should the guilty person be discovered, severe punishment will without question be his lot. Colonel Cope in discussing the affair this morning said: "This is the worst thing that has ever happened to battlefield property and we sincerely hope that all good citizens will put forth every effort to assist the commission in learning the names of the persons concerned. They should be given the most severe punishment." Colonel John P. Nicholson, chairman of the commission, is not in town.

No motive whatever is ascribed for the unusual act. The kindest interpretation which has been put upon it is that some one mentally deranged must have visited the section and that the crime was the result of a disordered mind. Another theory is that a drunken man may have committed the outrage; while a possible reason advanced is that some one may have taken this method of showing their displeasure over not getting a position on the battlefield; or that they have some spite with persons connected with battlefield work.

The three monuments which have been so defaced were all of granite and of the products of skilled workmen. The carving in every instance was carefully and beautifully done and the monuments were ornaments to the parts of the field in which they were located. All the monuments on the field except the large Pennsylvania State Memorial are under the care of the National Park Commission and, with their usual manner of attending to things, prompt attention to the damage as well as a thorough search for the perpetrators of the crime may be looked for.

Colonel Cope thinks that the monuments can be temporarily repaired for this coming summer but their ultimate replacement will be found necessary later on, entailing an expense of a large sum of money.

TOURIST AUTOS MAY BE TAXED

Automobiles Used for Taking People over the Battlefield may now be Taxed by Borough. Supreme Court Decision.

By a decision of the Supreme Court the borough of Gettysburg is now able to enact and put in operation an ordinance taxing both horse-drawn vehicles and automobiles which are used for hacking purposes and the town council will likely pass such a measure in time for the coming summer.

Last year an ordinance passed council providing that all vehicles should be licensed on a basis of passenger-carrying capacity. Burgess Holtzworth vetoed the ordinance on the ground that it worked a hardship on local liverymen and others who carried on an established business while it would let out at an easy figure the transient man, or the man who only operated during the summer months.

The ordinance was accordingly returned to the council and when it came up for passage over the Burgess' veto every councilman present voted against the measure—giving as their ground that Court decisions did not allow the taxing of automobiles and that it would be unfair to tax liverymen and other guides and allow the automobile man to go free.

The Superior Court has ruled that the fact that a state tax was paid on machines made it illegal for boroughs to tax them but recently the Supreme Court has overruled the Superior Court and it is now possible to impose a tax on automobiles for soliciting and hacking purposes. The ordinance which Burgess Holtzworth vetoed, or one very much similar to it, will now come up before Council in the near future for action and it will likely pass as the revenue amounts to a sum ranging from $600 to $1000 annually, which is quite a factor in providing for the finances of the town.

Last year but little revenue was secured in this way for less than thirty paid hack license under the old ordinance which had been in effect for many years. It came up for argument, however, and it was then stated that the ordinance would not stand a legal test and that further collections could not be made if hackmen contested the measure. As a result Gettysburg got comparatively little revenue from this source during 1912 and it is to prevent a repetition of this and to prepare for the big business of the coming summer that Council will have before it a new ordinance in the very near future.

LOCAL LODGES ARE PROSPEROUS

Various Secret Orders of Gettysburg Take in Many New Members. Two are Preparing for Conventions during the Summer.

Gettysburg's secret societies have put in a successful fall and winter according to representatives of the various lodges in the town and the memberships have all been increased materially.

On Tuesday evening Gettys Lodge of Odd Fellows conferred the degree upon seven candidates and earlier in the year they added many new members to their roll. The usual ceremony attended their work on Tuesday night. The Odd Fellows are watching with interest the work on the cyclorama building for they are counting on using it for their Grand Lodge meeting in May.

Washington Camp 414 P. O. S. of A. has had a prosperous year and will celebrate this coming Friday evening with the annual banquet in the big hall in the McPherson block.

Battlefield Council 717, O. of I. A. held their annual banquet earlier in the year. This organization, too, has had its share of accessions and is reported in a prosperous condition.

Twenty-five new members have joined the Eagles since last fall. The home in the Diehl building on Chambersburg street has been rented for a period of five years. At a special meeting Tuesday night James B. Aumen and Martin Harman were appointed a committee to attend the funeral of J. Harry Brubaker in Elizabethtown today.

The Sons of Veterans are looking forward with interest to the Camp which their organization will hold in Gettysburg during the coming summer and active preparations for that event will be taken up during the next few months.

"Gettysburg has more successful societies than any town its size in the state" said an active secret order man this morning. "Every organization which is represented here is in flourishing condition, is taking in new men and becoming more firmly established every year."

GET SUSPECT AT CHARMIAN

State Troopers Called to Monterey and Charmian to Capture Man Alleged to have Committed Robberies. Get Some Goods.

Privates Moody and Campbell, of the State constabulary received a call in Waynesboro Monday evening to come to Monterey to search for burglars who broke into three cottages at that place, some time Saturday night.

The two troopers hurried there on horseback, and found clothes, liquors and wines stolen from the cottages. In addition the interior of the cottages had been torn up badly by the intruders.

The troopers made a search but could not find any clues and returned to Waynesboro. After their departure the care-takers of the cottages, W. F. Benchoff, Thomas Eyley, James W. Hampton and B. F. Shockey, continued to search and about midnight ran across a suspicious character in a stable near Charmian.

The man was taken to Blue Ridge Summit where Magistrate Dutrow dismissed him. He had a suit case with him, which was held by the magistrate.

The troopers were notified of the capture of the man, Tuesday morning, and went to the mountains again. Upon opening the suit case they found articles of clothing, etc.

The man was found in the vicinity and taken before Magistrate Spielman, Rouzerville, later, where he pleaded guilty to burglary and larceny. He also admitted having broken into the Reed grocery store, Charmian, two weeks ago, and having stolen clothing, and other articles. He gave his name as John Dock, Baltimore.

Magistrate Spielman committed him to the Chambersburg jail to await a trial at court. He was taken there by Constable Rodgers.

In his possession were also found thirty keys, such as used by expert burglars.

GOOD CROP OUTLOOK

Everything Points to Good Summer for Crops of all Kinds.

"There has not been a single discouraging crop report received this spring from any part of the State," said Deputy Secretary of Agriculture Martin when asked regarding the crop outlook for 1913. Mr. Martin receives advices every week from all parts of the State, and keeps in touch with conditions. "This good report especially applies to wheat and rye," continued Mr. Martin "and to fruits like apples, pears and peaches and plums up to date, none of which has been injured, which is remarkable in view of the warm weather we have been having. Everything is very satisfactory and in some respects extraordinarily so. The winter has been so open that it might be expected conditions would be so far advanced that there might be danger, but so far we are safe. Of course, we cannot tell what March will do, but there never were better prospects for a big wheat crop than at the present time. From the Cumberland Valley as far south as Chambersburg and from down the Lebanon Valley in and about Lebanon and Berks counties the conditions are reported to be splendid and the outlook for a record-breaking wheat crop is very good.

"What I have been very pleased to hear is that for a decade the poultry conditions have never been so good as they are this year. The hens seem to be outdoing themselves. Poultry raisers have been making a science of the work, studying conditions and adapting their work to such as will bring the best results. That means that the Pennsylvania poultry crop will net more for the raiser and be worth more generally than ever before. I attribute a good deal of this intelligent poultry raising to the instructions in the farmers' institutes held in every county, the good results from these institutes being more apparent every year."

KILLS BIG BILL AS CONGRESS ENDS

The Sundry Civil Measure Was Vetoed by Taft.

ONE BATTLESHIP WINS OUT

Provisions Exempting Labor Unions and Farmers From Sherman Act Opposed by President Taft.

Washington, March 5.—The Sixty-second congress passed into history, with some of its important work left undone, despite an all-night session.

Notable among the measures that failed of enactment was the sundry civil bill, which was vetoed by President Taft just before his term ended. The bill was passed over his veto by the house, 270 to 50, but failed of action in the senate owing to a filibuster.

Inasmuch as the senate and house adjourned without agreeing to the conference report on the Indian appropriation bill, that measure also failed.

President Taft's veto of the sundry civil bill, which carried about $113,000,000, was based upon his objection to a provision in the bill which made an appropriation of $300,000 for the enforcement of the Sherman law, but which specifically exempted from prosecution labor organizations and associations of farmers.

Just before the house adjourned Speaker Clark called former Speaker Cannon to the chair, and an affecting scene of farewell took place. Speaker Clark told the house he violated no confidence in saying: "I could have been sworn in as vice president of the United States if I had wanted to, but I preferred to stay with you." Speaker Clark and Mr. Cannon received an ovation upon the adjournment of the house.

The senate had agreed to the conference report on the general deficiency bill, thus disposing of that measure.

The Indian appropriation bill then remained the only measure to be disposed of, but Senator Fall declined to allow the senate to accept the conference report.

With Senator Fall continuing his filibuster on the Indian bill, the senate got ready to adjourn that the inauguration of the vice president might not be delayed beyond the scheduled time.

The sundry civil bill, repassed in the house, was rushed over to the senate. A sergeant-at-arms grasped the long pole and turned the hands of the clock back. Senator Fall, however, was still filibustering. The bill was finally taken up for a vote. President Taft's veto had characterized it as "class legislation of the most vicious sort." Then came a short filibuster by Senator Poindexter.

After a time the attempt to repass the bill over the veto was abandoned by the senate, which adjourned sine die.

Among the first bills President Taft signed were the rivers and harbors, public buildings, agriculture and general deficiency. A few minutes before noon he signed the naval bill, providing for one battleship and the post-office appropriation bill.

President Taft continued to sign the appropriation bills until all had been approved with the exception of the sundry civil bill. He let it be known that he would exercise the pocket veto on the seamen's involuntary servitude bill.

Unless congress interferes the organization of the customs service will be revolutionized, beginning July 1. As one of his last acts President Taft sent a message to congress announcing the redistricting of the service.

The existing 165 districts will be reduced to forty-nine, formed largely along state lines, and 116 collectors of customs will be abolished. Several ports of entry and a number of sub-ports will be abandoned. Congress has stipulated that the new plan must reduce the cost of the customs service to $10,150,000, or a saving of $700,000 as compared with the current fiscal year.

BOY GETS ELEVEN YEARS

Sentenced Until He Is Twenty-one For Stealing Five Cents.

Atlanta, Ga., March 5.—An eleven-year sentence for the theft of a five-cent bottle of a soda fountain drink was affirmed here by the Georgia supreme court against Ollie Taylor, thirteen years old.

The decision ends a three-year struggle by O. F. Taylor, father of the boy, to have the decision set aside. The lad pleaded guilty three years ago to stealing the bottle. He was only ten years old then, and was sentenced to the Fulton Industrial Farm until he was twenty-one years old.

Mexicans Again Fire on U. S. Troops.

Douglas, Ariz., March 5.—A second skirmish occurred between the Ninth Cavalry troops and Mexican federal soldiers from Agua Prieta, across the international border, one and a half miles southeast of Douglas. Mexicans to the number of fifty fired on the border patrol at a distance of 250 yards.

SENATE CONTROL FIGHT ON TODAY

Democrats Will Hold Special Caucuses.

TO PLAN ORGANIZATION

Leaders of Both Houses Will Map Out Policies For the Extra Session of Congress.

Washington, March 5.—Control of congress in both branches passed into the hands of Democracy.

Today the Democratic members of the senate and house will assemble in separate caucuses to plan the organization of the two houses and to map out the policies for the extra session that is to assemble under President Wilson's call April 1.

Democratic senators faced the caucus gathering with expectations of a struggle of some moment over the control of the senate organization. The progressive Democratic forces apparently were in full control of the situation so far as the selection of a senate leader was concerned; but the plans to change seniority rules in the filling of the committees, on which the newer senators demanded full representation, threatened to embroil the Democrats in a hard fight.

The house Democratic leaders were prepared to take into today's caucus of representatives a comprehensive plan for the organization of that body for the work of tariff revision. The chief work of the house caucus promises to be the selection of the ways and means committee members who will begin at once the preparation of the tariff bills.

The Democratic majority in the house is so large that a hundred Democrats in it can go astray of their party obligations, or fall into the Potomac river; still there would be enough and to spare to support the president's recommendations.

The senate, to which today will be sent the cabinet nominations for confirmation, prevents a very different problem. To begin with, even nominally, there is a Democratic majority of but two; or at best five, if Illinois and New Hampshire should fill the remaining vacancies with Democrats. The Republicans and Progressives already have forty-seven. But when it comes to a lineup as between conservatives and progressives, in the broader meaning of those terms, the apparent majority at the command of the new president might go to pieces in the first test.

The Progressives will be of the utmost importance in any crisis of battle between the conservatives and progressives of either party, especially in the issues involving the local interests which will break the lines over tariff reduction.

One thing which may prove of great importance in respect of responsive-ness to public sentiment is the fact that the terms of office of thirty-one of the ninety-three constituting the present membership of the senate have only two years more to run.

SOCIAL SECRETARY ON JOB

Miss Hagner Takes Up Duties at the White House.

Washington, March 5.—Miss Isabelle Hagner, who has been appointed social secretary to Mrs. Wilson, took up her duties.

Because she served in a similar capacity with Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt and is a member of an old and distinguished Washington family, she is thoroughly familiar with the duties which will devolve upon her.

Miss Hagner long has been recognized as a member of Washington's most exclusive set, and was invaluable to the Roosevelt family. She was employed in the state department before she became social secretary to Mrs. Roosevelt. When the family left the White House she went back to her position.

HORSE ENDANGERS WILSON

Rears and Plunges Toward President's Carriage on Return to White House.

Washington, March 5.—One startling incident took place on President Wilson's return to the White House yesterday.

A cavalryman's horse reared toward the president's carriage, and at one time it looked as if he would plant his forefeet in it.

A dozen troopers frantically rushed to grasp the bridle, while President Wilson calmly leaned out of the carriage and patted the frightened horse on the neck.

Paris, March 5.—The French aviator, Guillaux, made a flight from Sa-vign-Sur-Braye to Paris in one hour. The distance is 190 kilometers (118 miles).

White Plains, N. Y., March 5.—Eleven buildings in the heart of the business section of White Plains were destroyed by fire. The loss is estimated at $700,000. No casualties are reported. CHANGES GOING MAD TO REGAIN EYESIGHT

Dr. Sheen Submits to Desperate Operation.

Atlantic City, N. J., March 5.—Dr. Rodman Sheen, honor man of the class of 1911 at the Hahnemann Medical college, Philadelphia, and for a year subsequently an interne at Hahnemann hospital, took a "fighting" chance in the effort to recover his eyesight.

The operation was performed by Professor Harvey Cushing, dean of the Harvard Medical college, at Boston, in the Harvard hospital there. The young physician, who was valedictorian of the class of 1907, Atlantic City high school, is suffering from a rare malady, and his case is being closely followed by physicians throughout the country.

Specialists say he faced awful odds. Had the operation failed he might have become a maniac, physicians declare. From a message received by Sheen's brother the operation apparently is successful.

A formation pressing against the optic nerve gradually dimmed his sight since his senior year in Hahnemann. Although he could not read for two months prior to his graduation he took second honors there and later passed the Pennsylvania state board examination. He is twenty-two years old.

MAY PROBE CAPITAL POLICE

Failure to Guard Suffrage Parade Stirs Action.

WHOLE CITY IS INDIGNANT

Congressman Hobson Will Ask For Investigation During Extra Session. Women Complain to Wilson.

Washington, March 5.—Charges that the police of Washington did not properly protect Monday's suffrage parade were made in the house by Representative Hobson, of Alabama, who later declared that he purposed to ask for an investigation of the police department during the extra session of congress.

Mr. Hobson told the house that the congressional section of the parade, led by Representative Ruck, of Colorado, comprised a score of senators and representatives, who, starting at arm's length and four abreast, finally were crowded into single file by the crowding of the spectators and that the police "scooped with the ruffians."

"I have been called over the telephone," said Mr. Hobson, "and told by a lady that her daughter was on one of the floats in the parade and that a ruffian climbed on the float and insulted her daughter."

"Her daughter ought to have been at home," interjected Representative Mann, of Illinois, the Republican leader. The remark aroused a number of members.

"She had as much right there as any one," shouted Representative Raker, of California; "the gentleman ought to be ashamed of himself."

A resolution for the investigation of the Washington police was offered in the senate by Senator Jones and referred at once to a committee. Senator Nelson declared the scene attending the suffrage parade constituted a "most disgraceful affair and a disgrace to the police force."

Suffragists as well were prepared to press before the incoming congress their demands for a thorough investigation of the lack of protection extended to them. The ordeal, however, which the marchers passed, and many supporters in places where they had not looked for converts. Both official and civic Washington is ablaze with indignation at the treatment of the women, which virtually scandalized the national capital.

Even the anti-suffragists, who have combated the "Votes for Woman" crusade, unrelentingly expressed indignation at the slights placed upon their sex in the procession. They condemned the police preparations and evidently were prepared to support their sisters in the other camp in their demand that some explanation be made for the failure to provide the necessary protection.

Before Woodrow Wilson has been president many hours he will have placed in his hands by the incensed suffragists a copy of the vigorous resolutions of denunciation they adopted at their mass meeting following their parade along Pennsylvania avenue. The resolution reads:

"Resolved, That this meeting unqualifiedly censures and denounces the shameful conduct of the police during the suffrage parade just ended, which denied to the marchers for suffrage their rights to parade freely and unmolested in the main streets of the capital, and subjected them to the crowd rabid insults from the crowds which all but overwhelmed them. To these insults the police in many cases listened without effort to repress, as they were but mildly interested when the marchers were compelled to go in single file. Such mismanagement would have been a disgrace in any city, but it is doubly and trebly a disgrace in the national capital, which belongs to our citizens, men and women alike."

Major Sylvester, chief of the Washington police, declared that the inability of his force to manage Monday's spectators was due to any willful neglect of duty by any of the men. He said he did the best he could with the small force at his command, consisting of 631 disciplined privates. In addition there were a large number of specials.

May Give Friedmann a Chance.
New York, March 5.—Whether Dr. F. F. Friedmann will be allowed to make a demonstration of his tubercular treatment in this city rests with the board of health, he announced. The German physician has been for bidden to practice in New York by the board of censors of the New York Medical society without a special license, and this, he indicated, he had applied for.

Wireless Carries 5000 Miles.
Newport, R. I., March 5.—A new record for long distance transmission of wireless messages was established when operators in the naval torpedo station here heard two wireless stations in the Argentine republic, between 5000 and 6000 miles away, exchanging agrammars. The conditions were perfect for wireless work.

$3,500,000 Fire Near Tokio.
Tokio, March 5.—Two thousand houses, almost the entire town of Muzumazu, south of Tokio, were destroyed by fire. There were a number of fatalities. The loss is $3,500,000.

Fletcher Will Resign.
Santiago, Chile, March 5.—Henry P. Fletcher, of Pennsylvania, United States minister to Chile, emphatically denied the report published in America that he had refused to resign, as is the custom when the presidency changes hands. He declared that his resignation would be sent to Washington immediately if desired. It was reported that Fletcher and other diplomats appointed under the civil service law would not resign their posts.

TAFT MAKES LAST BOW TO CAPITAL

Former President Bids Adieu to Public Life.

Washington, March 5.—William H. Taft, public servant since he was twenty-one, said his farewell to public life and became a citizen of the republic that he has served over the seas and throughout the world for so many years. His goodbye was a smile, a handshake for the members of his cabinet and a courtly bow to the women friends who braved the inauguration discomforts to bid him and Mrs. Taft Godspeed in the Union station.

A wave of the hand and another smile was given for the people who stood in the trainshed and watched his train pull slowly out for the south. The last that Washington saw of the twenty-seventh president was the dim outline of a big, smiling figure in a frock coat, with hair a little awry, standing on the rear platform of a private car as it was swallowed in the curling smoke of the tunnel that leads under the city of Dixie.

His last glimpse of the city where four years ago he became chief executive and left a private citizen by the people's will, was from the platform of his car across the broad Potomac, to where the Washington monument lifted its gray, pointed peak to the gray sky.

Today Mr. Taft expects to be in Georgia to rest and play as the guest of the city of Atlanta for three weeks. On March 27 he plans to go north to New Haven to settle down to the quiet life as a professor of law. He left with a friend, but only with thankfulness that he had been given the opportunity to serve.

CASTRO SEES INAUGURATION
"Man Without a Country" in Court of Honor Stand.

Washington, March 5.—Sitting a hundred feet from President Wilson, General Cipriano Castro, "dictator of Venezuela," who gained admission to this country despite the efforts of the federal government, viewed the inauguration ceremonies after making a two days' trip from Havana, Cuba.

His presence in the court of honor stand was in no way at the invitation of President Wilson. With Castro were Simon Bello, of Curacao, and Alfredo Corregosa, of Paris, two noted Venezuelans.

Castro is ostensibly in Washington to cultivate the friendship of the Democratic administration. President Wilson so far has ignored him.

TAFT'S LAST OFFICIAL ACT
Signing of Bill Appropriating $11,500,000 For District of Columbia.

Washington, March 5.—President Taft's last official act was his signature to the bill appropriating $11,500,000 for the District of Columbia for the fiscal year ending July, 1914.

The bill also carries an excise provision, a provision creating a public utilities commission and the La Follette measure prohibiting merger of local public utilities.

Allentown Lawyer a Suicide.
Allentown, Pa., March 5.—Arthur L. Biery, aged forty-eight, a prominent member of the Lehigh bar, fired two bullets through his head and was dead almost instantaneously. He leaves a widow and three children. Financial troubles were the cause.

Iowa Congratulates Wilson.
Des Moines, Ia., March 5.—Both houses of the Iowa legislature, controlled by Republicans, adopted resolutions of congratulation to President Wilson.

GRAY HAGUE COMMISSIONER
Judge of U. S. Circuit Court of Delaware Reappointed by Mr. Taft.

Washington, March 5.—President Taft just before he went out of office reappointed Judge George Gray, of the United States circuit court of Delaware, a commissioner at the Hague.

The president also appointed John Bassett Moore another commissioner to fill an existing vacancy. Mr. Moore had been advanced as a candidate for assistant secretary of state.

MOROS KEEP UP ATTACK

Thirty-two Wounded Americans Are Brought into Manila.

Manila, March 5.—The town of Jolo has undergone incessant attack by the Moros for the last two weeks.

Details of the operations are meager, as a rigid censorship is in force. Even letters sent by officers and men defending the town are subjected to scrutiny.

That the fighting has been serious, however, is obvious from the arrival in Manila of thirty-two wounded Americans.

The Moros, it is reported, continually fling taunts at the defenders of the town, calling on them to "come out and fight in American fashion and not like pigs." The troops are chafing greatly at their inaction.

BLOW SAFE NEAR DYNAMITE

Yeggmen Worked In Very Jaws of Death and Didn't Get a Cent.

Reading, Pa., March 5.—Only providence spared the town of Monaca, this county, from a terrible catastrophe when yeggmen blew open the safe in the Philadelphia & Reading station, setting off an explosion of nitroglycerine with only a thin partition dividing it from a half-ton of high power dynamite.
